

Dear Keiko,

My idea for the cultural exchange program is asking questions about our culture and then we prepare some projects based on what you are really interested in.

Because I think it's more interesting and engaging for both the participants. This type of project can engage us more to do really nice work, if we have specific questions we can answer them better than not answering at some curiosity that for us is normal.

Anyway I have some questions for you:

-Which type of breakfast do you usually eat?

-Why is sushi so conventional in the world?

-Which is your favorite festival in Japan and which one do you recommend to us?

-Do you use netflix for streaming or do you use other services?

-Which type of social media do you use to chat with your friends?

-Who is the one responsible for choosing your school-uniforms? Do you like it?
